

BUILD TUNNEL UNDER HUDSON

Work on $40,000,000 Vehicular Tunnel Is Under Way.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Work on the $40,000,000 vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river is under way. Contracts call for the completion in four years, including apprentices.

The total length of the tunnel is 9,255 feet. The two tubes will have an hourly capacity in both directions of 2,800 vehicles. Each tube will have room for two automobiles abreast, and there will be a six-foot sidewalk.

The ventilation plan provides for changing the air forty times an hour and the projectors have no fear of gasoline fumes.

Each tube will have an outside diameter of 23 feet six inches. The tubes will lie side by side.

The New York entrance will be at Broome and Varick sts., and the exit at Canal and Varick. As it will be necessary to go under the Erie railroad yards, the New Jersey ends will be further back from the river, the entrance at Provost and Twelfth st., and the exit at Provost and Fourteenth st.

Following data indicates the magnitude of the work: Length of tunnel, 9,255 feet; distance between portals, 8,250 feet; distance between river shafts, 3,275 feet; length under-river portion, 5,480 feet; two roadways, each 20 feet wide; headroom, 11 feet six inches; estimated hourly capacity in both directions, 3,800 vehicles; estimated daily capacity, 46,000 vehicles; maximum depth to top of tunnel below mean high water, 72 feet; maximum depth of roadway below mean high water, 92 feet.

Ground was broken for the first construction work March 31, 1922. The cost is being shared by the states of New York and New Jersey.

Sunflower Seeds Sell at 50,000 Rubles a Glass in Soviet Russia

MOSCOW, April 13.—The sunflower seed is the chewing gum and the peanut of Russia.

Whether you go you will see some one with a pocketfull of these black seeds. People are always munching them. They are as thick as parrots in splitting the seeds with their teeth and swallowing the soft interior and spitting out the hulls.

The sunflower seed has always been a national habit in Russia just as chewing gum and peanuts have been in America and in these days of food scarcity and enormous prices it has become a staple diet. There is only a very small amount of nourishment in these little black seeds, but they provide some bulk and help to deceive the stomach into thinking it has had some real food.

Walking along one of the principal streets of Moscow, where everyone is trying to sell something, from wood and furs and cigarettes to samovars and embroidery and black bread and ragged boots, one will see many old women with baskets of sun flower seeds and small tumblers to measure them out for the purchasers. The customary price observed in Moscow is 50,000 rubles a tumblerful. In the old days this would have been $25,000, but now it is worth exactly five cents.

In the vast famine area of the Volga there is not a sunflower seed left. Everything that a human being can possibly put into his mouth and chew has been used for food. Elm bark has been found out of the most satisfactory food substitutes, for it does not make one sick to eat it.

In one town on the Asiatic border of Russia, where the American relief administration men were working, they sold muddy slime being sold on the street for food.

DISCARDED TIRES ARE USED TO MAKE SHOES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 13.—The fate of worn-out automobile tires—at least those of Los Angeles—has been found.

After serving their purpose here the old tires are sent to the west coast of Mexico and made into shoes.

And making shoes from the discarded "cords" and "fabrics" is simple. The old tires are cut into lengths, both ends sewed up at the toes, a strip tacked on for a heel, and they have as wearable a shoe as ever was made, it is claimed.

To make such a shoe costs only from 50 to 75 cents.

The business of this new trade is amazing. Sam L. Kreider, steamship agent, is the authority for the statement that the last shipment of old tires from here to the west coast of Mexico totalled 200 tons, and more consignments will go soon.

TOBACCO GROWERS PLAN COOPERATION

KINSTON, N. C., April 13.—Sixty thousand farmers in one big organization have set about controlling the 1922 tobacco crop in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Fully organized and officered by leading planters and bankers of the three states, the growers declare they will demand a better profit for the crop. Their leaders say the organization is the most powerful of the kind in the country.

Co-operative marketing of tobacco for reduced privies.

is to be started in the Virginia and Carolina belts late in the summer. It is already in operation in Kentucky. The Tri-State Co-operative Marketing association will own or lease hundreds of warehouses for storage and selling purposes. In past years the auction system has been in effect. Under this, tobacco was rushed onto the market in such quantities that a tremendous crop was usually in the manufacturers' hands in a few weeks' time. The growers, according to the organized farmers' leaders, paid the penalty of such positions.

French Against Women Holding Public Office

PARIS, April 13.—Returns of a referendum taken by all Chambers of Commerce in France as regards the eligibility of women for election to chambers show that the majority are not in favor of women holding such positions.

SLUMP IN POTASH HITS WONDER CITY

Nebraska Town of War Time Returns to Flag Station Normalcy.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 13.—Antioch, "the wonder city," rapidly is slipping back to Antiach, the flag station.

From a sleepy, sun-parched village of 200 inhabitants to a thriving manufacturing city of more than 5,000 was the almost overnight transformation wrought on Antiach by war. Thus the town acquired its sobriquet "Nebraska's Wonder city."

With the coming of peace there was no further excuse for Antiach the city. Its industry—potash—was dead.

Antiach, the flag station, in western Nebraska, was surrounded by a chain of stagnant lakes, the waters of which were heavily impregnated with chemicals believed to have no commercial value. With the declaration of war it was discovered one of these deposits was potash. Government chemists made a favorable report on the waters, and Uncle Sam spent $5,000,000 in a string of potash refining plants and evaporating systems at Antiach. Lured by high wages, an army of 5,000 workers flock to the place, built the mushroom city and "stuck around" until the armistice whistle blew.

With the potash market dead, one plant after another suspended. An plant survived and grew as rapidly as it had sprung out over an expanse of wind-swept prairie gradually concentrated in a few houses near the little red-brick station—the flag station that served Antiach before the boom days.

Today less than 500 persons claim Antiach as their home, and of these 250 are said to be without occupation.

Fashion Hints for the Well Dressed Man

Last year's favorites are out. The tight fitting suit of exaggerated cut is a thing of the past.

The new spring models shown in our store now feature two and in some cases three buttons in neat single and double breasted models.

Another interesting thing. The lapels are narrower and are notched instead of peaked.

Hats are still shaped under the arms but the pinched waistline has entirely disappeared in the approved models.

Trousers are a trifle larger at hips, knees and bottom.

First such amazing values of these is the reason why Grand Leader's big, busy Millinery Department is the talk of the town. Why pay $24.50 for a lovely hat? When you can choose from over 200 beautiful new Spring creations, representing the smartest and most beautiful of Spring styles, at $4.50?
